Table with 3 columns: Asset information as of the day you filed the original FAFSA, Student/Spouse, Parent(s)/Stepparent. Rows include Total balance of cash, savings, checking; Net worth of current investments; Net worth of business and/or investment farm.

Assets reported on the 2022-23 FAFSA are a "snapshot" of the day the FAFSA was originally filed. If you have changed asset information on your student aid report, please include documentation with this form that explains why it was changed.

I certify that ALL of the information on this form is complete and correct:

Student Signature (Required) _____ Date _____

Parent Signature (Required for dependent students) _____ Date _____

(Typed signatures will NOT be accepted.)

Net worth of investments means total current market value minus their associated debt. If net worth is negative, enter "0" (zero).

Net worth for business or investment farms means the current market value of a business or investment farm minus the debt owed on it.

*Family-owned and controlled small businesses that have 100 or fewer full-time or full-time equivalent employees do not count as an asset.

*A farm is not reported as an investment on the FAFSA if it is the principal place of residence for the applicant and the applicant's family and they materially participated in the farming operation.

Investments include real estate such as rental property, land and second or summer homes (do not include the home you live in), the value of portions of multifamily dwellings that are not your/your parents' principal residence, trust funds (such as UGMA and UTMA accounts), money market funds, mutual funds, certificates of deposit, stocks, stock options, bonds, other securities, education IRAs, 529 college savings plans, Coverdell savings accounts, the refund value of 529 state prepaid tuition plans, installment and land sale contracts (including mortgages held), commodities, etc.

*Students who are considered dependent for federal financial aid and report parental information should report the value of Coverdell savings accounts, 529 college savings plans, and the refund value of 529 state prepaid tuition plans owned by the student and all accounts owned by the parents for any member of the household as assets of the parents and not assets of the student. Students who do not report parental information and who own (or if married, the student's spouse owns) any of these accounts, the value of the account should be reported as the student's assets.

Investments do not include the home you live in, the value of life insurance and retirement plans (pension funds, annuities, non-education IRAs, Keogh plans, etc.)

WARNING: If you purposely give false or misleading information on this form, you may be fined, sentenced to jail, or both. If we have reason to believe that the information on this form is not accurate, we may require additional documentation.
