Associate Director for Project Management with CSL Plasma
Bourbonnais, Illinois

“Olivet Nazarene University’s online Master of Business Administration (MBA) program is ideal for full-time professionals who want to gain knowledge and advance in their career,” says Shailaja Ravola, who received her degree in 2018. “I strongly recommend this program.”

Shailaja is currently the Associate Director for Project Management with CSL Plasma, a division of CSL Behring, a leader in global biotherapeutics. She first heard about ONU Global’s advanced degree programs when a representative visited the company’s site in Kankakee, Illinois.

As a ONU graduate, she appreciates the experienced faculty who taught her classes. “Our professors provided quality content and real life examples,” she says. “They provided opportunities for individual consultations. The online discussions were engaging and thought provoking. Even though the program was offered virtually, the learning experience of the face-to-face classroom was maintained.”

Shailaja took the Global Immersion class while a student. In pre-pandemic times, she and her cohort studied in Dubai and Abu Dhabi. While there, they interacted with and learned from executive leaders — like Kenneth Gile, the COO of Fly Dubai, and Sheikh Abdullah bin Zayed Al Nahyan, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation for United Arab Emirates.

“I now have a deeper understanding of business procedures, strategies and diversity,” she says. “The knowledge and experience I gained through ONU Global’s MBA program have helped me successfully implement high profile global projects for my company.”
